Dear Mike

Re: Gen Crossan supervision.

Gen has been coming to see for supervision fortnightly since May this year.

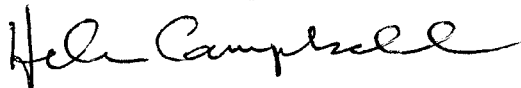

She has attended sessions regularly using her time to discuss issues around her work as social worker with the families whose children have been abused at the City council Creche.

I feel satisfied that she is working well, in a consistently supportive and ethical way with those families she is seeing. The supervision has been an important time for her to look at her own feelings and workload related to this very difficult situation.

We have also looked at the formation of groups for parents and families, the need for evaluation of her work and the evaluation of the parents perception of her involvement with them.

I am satisfied Gen is working well in this area and enjoy supervising her.

Yours sincerely

HELEN CAMPBELL.
