INFORMATION CHART

For advice or assistance, firstly telephone the Police Child Abuse Unit.
☎ 637-955 or 637-978

NB: These phone lines will be available between 8.30am-4.30pm on 1/4/92 to 3/4/92. After that, phone 793-999 and ask for Child Abuse Unit

⬇

In this call, brief details only will be recorded so that Police can ring you back at a later date.

NB: Only brief details will be sought in this call.

⬇

Police will ring you back and discuss your situation fully if appropriate, arrangements can then be made to have your child interviewed.

NB: Police or Specialist Services staff of DSW will make contact and arrange an interview time if this seems appropriate.

⬇

After interview, the results will be fully discussed with you and recommendations made as to appropriate courses of action that can be taken.

NB: Nothing will be done without your consent and knowledge after full discussions.

PLEASE REMEMBER

Supporting Your Child

Your child may be asking questions or displaying behaviour you find hard to deal with. For advice you can contact:

START, ph. 355-4414
Megan Phillips, DSW
Specialist Services
Ph: 538-929 or 538-935

Medical Examinations

Should only be conducted on advice from the Police and by doctors specially trained in this field.

Support For Parents

You need support so you can better support your child. Parents should support each other. For advice contact:

Megan Phillips, DSW
Specialist Services
Ph: 538-929 or 538-935

Counselling and Funding

Costs involved for children can be met by ACC (Refer to ACC handout) and some may be available through the CCC. For advice contact:
CCC: Martin Maguire, 711-882
ACC: Jo Gyles, 791-408

Other Issues

The CCC or Parents Committee should be contacted for all enquiries not related to the Police investigation.
CCC: Martin Maguire, 711-882
Parents Committee:
Simon Fraser, 797-800 (Wk)

Counselling Services

There are people who are skilled and available for support and guidance but resources are limited. For advice contact:
CCC: Martin Maguire, 711-882
ACC: Jo Gyles, 791-408